

Dear Valued Customers and Partners,

From the very beginning our vision has been to help procurement organisations unlock the power of procurement through the combination of innovative technology and real-world best practices. That is why we are excited to announce that BravoSolution has acquired Puridiom, a privately-held company of on-demand procurement and AP solutions.

The acquisition of Puridiom accelerates BravoSolution's aggressive plan to become a global source-to-pay solution leader with dedicated procure-to-pay capabilities enabling the full end-to-end procurement process through an integrated purchase-to-pay suite. This capability will help businesses efficiently manage the entire procurement lifecycle to drive superior savings and deliver more value to their business.

BravoSolution is committed to protecting and enhancing investments in both BravoSolution and Puridiom technology platforms. BravoSolution customers and partners will now have full P2P capabilities integrated into BravoAdvantage, BravoSolution's strategic procurement platform.

We are looking forward to developing new products and services enabled by this exciting combination of powerful technologies and global procurement expertise.

You may have a number of questions regarding this announcement. Please do not hesitate to contact your BravoSolution point of contact. In the meantime, more information can be found at www.bravosolution.com.

Thank you for your support,

Jim Wetekamp
